Data Release

The data sets collected as part of the LEK project are free and open to the public from 31st January 2016. The data dictionary, the history of the project, and publications conducted under the project are available at the project's web page (http://icta.uab.cat/etnoecologia/lek/).

To ensure that the data is not misused (for example to identify individuals or households), data are not directly upload on the web. Rather, researchers interested in the data need to send a letter or email to Victoria Reyes-García (ICTA-ICP, Edifici Z, Carrer de les columns, Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, E-08193, Cerdanyola del Vallès, Spain; Tel: +34 93 586 8976; e-mail: victoria.reyes@uab.cat) requesting the data.

The email or letter requesting the data should contain the following information and read (more or less) as follows:

Complete name:

Dear Dr. Reyes-García,

I am interested in using the most up to date LEK data set. In requesting the data I agree to the following:

1. Use the LEK data set for research or educational purposes only;

2. Not attempt to identify any individual, household, or community;

3. Not share the copy of the data with other users who have not agreed to these confidentiality terms.

4. Any publication resulting from my request must (a) include me (the person requesting the data) as an author or as a co-author, and (b) acknowledge that data were collected under the European Union's Seventh Framework Programme (FP7/2007-2013) / ERC grant agreement nr. FP7-261971-LEK to Reyes-García

Sincerely yours,
Signature
After Reyes-García receives the email or letter agreeing to these conditions and providing this information, the person will receive the most recent LEK data set in cvs format.
